Hennie Mahieu

Visual artist, Bruges, Belgium, 1970

“How I would describe what I do? Hard to say... I ‘make’, I guess. That’s what I love most, ‘making things’, realizing something. Not just painting and drawing, but also making sculptures and experimenting with photography and design. Sticking to one discipline seems too strict and would feel like a limitation. When I had to make my choice of study, I already had such a hard time with that. For me that’s like standing in a candy store and only being allowed to choose one candy, that doesn’t work either lol!”
